This comic book panel depicts a scene from the movie 'Ghostbusters: Afterlife'. Two men, Egon and Winston, are in the front of a vintage car. Egon is on the left, looking forward with a determined expression. Winston is on the right, driving and looking towards Egon. In the back seat, a large, friendly-looking ghost with a smiling face is visible. The car is moving through a snowy environment, with snowflakes falling around it. The panel is divided into four horizontal sections by black lines, with speech bubbles and sound effects placed within these sections. Green arrows indicate the flow of the scene from top to bottom.
